

Relationship #1

The Egyptian plover feeds on leeches and other scraps of food in the crocodile's mouth. The crocodile benefits because the plover cleans its teeth and removes potentially disease-causing parasites. The plover benefits from having quick access to food.